Nursing Home Is Forced To Close

Expectant Mother Has to be Removed at Night to Another Home When Fuel Oil Supply For Heating Runs Out.

SERIOUS SITUATION

Under Government Regulations Oil Can be Secured For a Private Residence But Not For a Nursing Home.

An expectant mother, who had been in the operating room, at the Pettit Nursing Home, Main street east, for a considerable period of time, had to be bundled up by the attending physician, in the mid-night hours of Thursday last and rushed away to a home at Vine-land, when the heating unit of the Pettit Home ceased to function for lack of fuel oil and the home began to get very cold. Shortly after the mother's arrival at Vine-land a baby was born.

Several other women patients in the home, with their babies, were removed on Friday morning by ambulances as soon as arrangements could be made.

The situation at the Pettit Home is a serious one for this whole district. Miss Marion Pettit, a Registered Nurse, has operated the home for over 12 years, very successfully, and there is no question but what the home has been a great boon to the doctors and mothers of the whole area. Now Miss Pettit is forced to close the home because she is unable to obtain a supply of oil to operate the heating unit.

Coach Service Is Discontinued

Toronto-Buffalo Line Ceased Operation Tuesday Night—Refunds Will Be Made On Unused Tickets.

Bus service between Toronto, Grimsby, Niagara Falls and Buffalo, operated by the Gray Coach Lines, was discontinued on Tuesday night, under orders from the Transit Controller.

Local passengers who now wish to travel to Toronto and do not care to use the Canadian National, must go to Hamilton by Canada Coach Lines and there purchase a second ticket and proceed to Toronto by Gray Coach Lines.

Local people who are holding return ticket stubs over the Gray Coach Lines may use them by travelling Canada and Gray Coach via Hamilton. Refunds for Gray Coach Lines unused tickets may be obtained from the head office of the company in Toronto.

Under the new transit regulations no ticket agent of any bus concern can sell a passenger a ticket for a greater distance than 50 miles. This also applies to people coming into Canada from the United States.

OLD TIME BARBER SHOP GONE

Memories of old-style barber shops seem to stick in the minds of men more than almost any other of the vanishing institutions. Time was when the barber shop was MAN'S domain exclusively. Quite often it was located in the front end of a poolroom.

It was very pleasant, in those days, to hear the click of the ivory balls, as one lay with eyes closed in the barber's chair. The blue smoke from the player's pipes and cigarettes could be seen reflected in the mirror into which one looks and tries to read calendars backwards, when one is getting a haircut.

The talk of all kinds of sports and the chances of winning was the chief topic of discussion. The air was sometimes colorful, and the poolroom barber shops were places past which fair maidens hurried with averted eyes.

Gone are the old individual shaving mugs, the sports' talk, and the basic jargon. Today the line of those waiting may comprise prim housewives, local glamor girls, little girls and even grandmas. The conversation is a much different. There is no soft click of billiard balls. One hears the barber observe "Lovely day, Mrs. So-and-So." He used to grunt, "How yer livin' Ehony?" Now he says "I believe it is your turn now, Miss Blunk." It used to be "Next, and get a move on!" Yes sir! the barber shops surely have changed.

GRIMSBY BOY DRIVING GRIMSBY AMBULANCE

Mrs. Victor Cotton, of Trinity Service Club, last week received two letters from Pte. Frank L. Barriok, (Overseas), one of the three Grimsby boys adopted by Trinity Service Club and son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Barriok, thanking her for the parcels that he had received from the club in the past few weeks. He stated that he received a great surprise two months ago when he was ordered to a certain hospital as a driver. Upon his arrival he was ordered to take over a certain ambulance and, to his great pleasure, it was the Grimsby White Elephant Ambulance. At present Pte. Barriok is confined to hospital with illness.

Lincoln's New Senator Baby Of Red Chamber

New Senator

J. JOSEPH BENCH, K.C.

First Appointment in 42 Years—Third in 63 years—Preceded by Hons. J. P. Plumb and Wm. Gibson.

First Senate appointment in St. Catharines and third in Lincoln county, J. Joseph Bench, K.C., prominent 37-year-old lawyer, has been appointed to the Senate of Canada, the youngest member to hold office in the Red Chamber at the present time.

Appointment of Mr. Bench was warmly received throughout the district today. He is senior member of the legal firm of Bench, Keogh and Cavers and is highly regarded for his distinguished conduct of noteworthy law cases which won attention not only in this area but through Ontario.

Senator Bench was born in St. Catharines and educated in the separate schools, and attended the Collegiate Institute, where he won a gold medal for oratory. He entered Osgoode Hall in 1925, graduated in 1928, and was called to the bar in the same year. He has practised law in St. Catharines since that date.

He holds the rank of captain in the reserve of officers of the Canadian Army, and was active in the Canadian Militia prior to the start of the war. In 1939 he served with the Lincoln and Welland Regiment on the Welland Canal Defence (Continued on page 7)

185 Blood Donors On Grimsby List

Ten Per Cent of Our Entire Population—G. M. Pettit Has Contributed 16 Times.

Grimsby has established a viable record at the Hamilton Blood Clinic where, on Wednesday, November 18th, a special Grimsby Day was held. During the clinic hours from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. some 110 donors gave of their blood to help in this most worthy cause.

Grimsby, with a population of some 2000 persons, now has a complete list of 185 donors or nearly 10% of the entire population. In nearly all cases the entire number has contributed at least twice and in a great number of cases, three to six times. Grimsby also has the distinction of having one donor who has contributed blood 16 times—Mr. O. M. Pettit, whose son Glenn is now serving overseas with the armed forces.

Grimsby's position is more outstanding when consideration is given to the fact that it is necessary to transport all donors 17 miles to Hamilton. This transportation has been possible through the splendid co-operation of citizens who in some cases have driven their own cars and contributed blood, while others not able to donate blood have loaned their cars which is a real sacrifice in these days of rationing both of gasoline and rubber.

During the last clinic day, some 45 first time donors were included in the list. Of this number 10 were (Continued on page 7)

Growers And Manufacturers Meet In Toronto—Are In Accord on Situation—Confer With Basket Administrator.

BUY OWN TIMBER

Committee Headed by M. M. Robinson Meeting Timber Controller in Ottawa Today—Must Have Continuous Production.

Representatives of the fruit growers and the basket manufacturers met in Toronto on Thursday last and were very much in agreement that the whole fruit industry faced a serious situation.

Chas. A. Farrell, manager of Canadian Package Sales, Ltd., explained to the growers just what the basket manufacturer was up against as regards labor shortage and timber shortage.

At a later meeting with F. J. Sutton, Administrator of Fruit Baskets and kindred products, the whole situation was gone into in a thorough manner. He was requested to allow the manufacturers of containers to go on the open market and buy what timber was required, of the different grades, with the Timber Controller of course, having the privilege of taking from their purchases any timber that he desired for aircraft or other war production.

Also that the Timber Controller obligate himself, the same as last year, to supply the makers with bottoms, even at an increase in price. The manufacturers agreed to take care of all increases in wages but asked that the Controller protect them on too great an increase of price in timber either by a raise to the grower or by a government subsidy.

Mr. Sutton did not commit himself (Continued on page 7)

Honesty Of Boy To Be Rewarded

Kenneth Fairbank Who Found $1,100.00 Will Appear on "Red" Winter Programme to Receive Award.

The honesty of a young Grimsby boy, Kenneth Fairbank, who while bicycling to Hamilton, two weeks ago, picked up a wallet containing over $1,100, which he immediately turned over to Hamilton police, upon arrival in the city, is not to go unrewarded.

At Monday night's meeting of the Lions Club, which was Father, Son and Daughter night, the programme was provided by Harry "Red" Foster, of Toronto who presented the moving pictures now being sponsored by the Lowrey Chocolate Co. "Young Canada Club", wherein the young boys and girls of the country are shown the safe methods of doing innumerable things in their everyday life.

In connection with safety and other deserving causes, special awards are made by the company. Lion Club members had no particular child in mind that a safety award could be given to but did (Continued on page 7)

The objective of the Third Victory Loan in Lincoln county was exceeded by almost two million dollars, $7,932,300 being subscribed, according to final figures released recently by Alfred Bunting, unit organizer of the National War Finance committee. 10 Japanese Come To Grimsby Plant

All Are Canadian Born—Transferred Here From Western Ontario—Educated in B. C. Schools.

Ten Japanese arrived in Grimsby on Saturday afternoon last as workmen in Merritt Bros. basket factory. They have been housed in the old barrel factory on Elizabeth street, north of the C. N. R. tracks.

All of this lot are Canadian born and were educated in the public and high schools of British Columbia. They were transferred to Grimsby from Western Ontario where they have been working all summer.

Under government regulations they are allowed to go where they wish, so long as they do their work and behave themselves in a proper manner. They come under the Selective Service Act regulations and must abide by all phases of the Act the same as any one else.

Sale Prices Are At High Peak

Ontario's Crack Auctioneer Says That Implements Are Selling For More Than They Cost New—Stock Is High.

That Canada is prosperous is not only attested to by the manner in which the Third Victory Loan went over, but is evidenced by the fact that wherever you go throughout the rural districts you find a real prosperity among the people.

Grain and stock farmers are working just as long hours as they ever did, but for some unknown reason, they are producing more in those same hours than they ever did. Result, prosperity.

Restrictions on farm implements and other farm tools has not been a hardship to the farmer. It has only made a lot of them realize (Continued on Page 7)

Roads And Bridges In Good Condition For Winter—Salary of Probation Officer Raised—Will Miss Annual Hockey Match.

A grant of $1,000 was made by Lincoln County Council Thursday last, to their favorite war charity, the British War Victims' Fund, collected by the Toronto Telegram. This makes a total of $3,200 which the county has contributed to this fund since 1940. The grant was made on the recommendation of R. G. Lawson, Niagara Township, and William Lothian, Grimsby, chairman of the Patriotic Committee.

Salary of H. Fonger, probation officer of the juvenile court, was increased from $480 to $750 a year, retroactive to Oct. 1, due to the heavy increase in his work.

Grimsby Alderman Uncovers a Grimsby Boy in a Naval Uniform—Comes by It Honestly.

Alderman D. E. Anderson was a visitor to Toronto a few days ago and in his amble around the Queen City he met two smart young Petty Officers of the Royal Canadian Navy.

In the course of conversation the fact came to the surface that one of them was "Bud" Clarke, son of Grimsby's own Andy Clarke, CBC's drawing announcer whose weekly newspaper broadcasts "Neighbourly News" keep as many of us from church on Sunday morning.

It is just a natural thing for "Bud" to be in the Navy. He comes by it honestly.

The Clarke family are direct descendants of General Brock, and his Grandfather the late George Clarke and his late uncle, "Uncle Bill" were both Fenian Raid veterans. Mrs. W. F. Randall, Fruitland, is an aunt of "Bud's". Good luck to you, kid.

LADIES, KEEP YOUR TRESSES

From all over Canada comes offers of women's hair, in hues of auburn, platinum, blonde, titian, raven, white and gray to the purchasing manager of a war industry manufacturing bomb sights.

The impulse to donate their tresses to be used as bomb sights seems to have gone to women's heads, claimed the distracted purchasing manager. We don't use human hair. We don't want it. Still offers come from all over, from patriotic but misguided women, requesting us to accept their hair cuttings. Their letters are proving a headache to the management, a woman in Vancouver, begged the war industry to accept cuttings from her hair, which she would gladly send in the next mail. The manager is kept busy writing letters of regret and thanking would-be donors for their offers.

An American factory manufacturing bomb sights has requested human hair; but so far as it is known, no optical instrument firm in Canada uses human hair.

OUR NEW SENATOR

Good Morning, Senator. That is the new salutation to be heard upon the streets of the County Town, as a friendly neighbour now passes J. Joseph Bench, K.C. upon the way to work or business.

I say too, Good Morning Senator. Congratulations and all the rest of the fold-erols. Laying the mantle of politics aside, I am very pleased at your appointment, for as a fine fellow and a legal luminary of worth, you are tops.

Rather young, Joe, to be stepping into such a dignified circle but believe that you are quite capable of acquitting yourself in a creditable manner. My only hope is that you do not, at too early an age, contract the dread disease that has permeated the Canadian Senate for generations—Sleeping Sickness.

ADVERTISING IN WARTIME

People are sometimes heard to ask why advertising should be allowed in wartime. They argue that it is a wasteful and useless practice that should be abolished or at least greatly curtailed.

Sensible answers to such people are provided in the Retailers' Bulletin, an official publication of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

The Bulletin states simply that if the production of particular goods or services is permitted then it is permissible to sell them, and it is permissible to assist their sales by using advertising media within the few regulations set forth by the Government. Moreover, the Bulletin outlines the following ways in which advertising may contribute to the stabilization of business and the economical distribution of goods and services:

"Informing customers of the effect of Government regulations upon purchasing.

"Giving current information regarding available goods to prevent panic buying or hoarding due to rumors or temporary shortages.

"Interpreting priority or simplified practices rulings by giving reasons for rationing. Limitations of supply, reduced deliveries or other curtailments of service.

"Guiding the buying public quickly to available perishable goods or other goods in plentiful supply."

The Bulletin further makes clear that merchants may advertise comparative prices in order to move perishable, out-of-season stock or broken ranges of stock which are offered at special prices. Such advertising is helpful to organized commerce, although it should not encourage unnecessary buying, nor stimulate the desire to hoard.

Concludes the Bulletin:

"Until peacetime conditions are restored, advertising will find many new and different functions to perform urging customers to restrict their choices and to save rather than to choose and to spend, educating the public to more economical and fuller use of available commodities, informing consumers of the facts behind the elimination of 'frills' from new standardized and simplified products, etc."

One of the finest appointments ever made for the County of Lincoln was that of J. G. Stuart Stanbury as Judge for this jurisdiction. His human understanding as well as his legal ability, and his high integrity and probity have made him an outstanding citizen of St. Catharines. His knowledge of boys, the future citizens, almost elicits the comment that Judge Stanbury himself is still a boy, in spite of the maturity and experience of his years.—St. Catharines Standard.

WHAT ABOUT TOMORROW

Canada today is one of the greatest producers of war materials in the United Nations. But what is going to happen when the day of manufacturing shells, ships, tanks, planes and other battle line materials cease to run off the assembly lines.

What actual plans have been made, or are being made for the post-war reconstruction of our country? For the employment of the thousands of men of the armed forces that will return to civilian life; for the employment of the masses of people who have been pressed into war work?

Donald Gordon, War Time Prices and Trade Board head makes the statement that soon 30,000 business firms will be forced to close by government regulation. What provision will be made for these firms to establish themselves when the war is over.

According to law all employers of men are compelled to give men in the armed services their old job when they return. Obviously those jobs, in many cases, will no longer exist. All we hear from the politicians in Ottawa is talk of land settlement schemes, vocational training and educational grants and other fly-by-night ideas that were all tried out after the Great War and proved to be failures.

Political speeches and the advancing of ideas that have already been "bloomers" will do nobody any good. Is it not time that we took a leaf from Great Britain's book and got down to serious business along post-war reconstruction lines.

The British Ministry of Works and Planning, which is concerned with postwar reconstruction on the physical side, is now ready to pass from the stage of inquiry to that of action.

The first part of its task, now accomplished, is essential to the second. The business before it, as Britishers have pointed out, is not that of constructing a Utopia, where the commonwealth of one's heart's desire can be created out of the stuff that dreams are made of; practical reconstruction must be preceded by exact, devoted study of stubborn realities.

It began, therefore, by appointing two expert committees both of which have now completed the inquiries. The recommendations made by one of these, known as the Uthwatt Committee, in an interim report, were accepted by the Government with minor reservations.

The Government has agreed that a Central Planning Authority for the whole country shall be set up with power to control building and other development, and that there should be a fixed basis of compensation for land acquired in the public interest. And now the Minister of Works and Planning has before him the final Uthwatt Report showing exactly what can and should be done to restore the devastated cities and abolish what is obsolete.

Some cities in Britain, such as bomb-scarred Coventry, have already made their reconstruction plans. But every city, under the Uthwatt scheme, will have to make its plan, and submit it for approval to the Central Authority. It will have power to purchase compulsorily not only war-damaged areas, but all unsatisfactory areas which need reconstruction as a whole; and once land has passed into public ownership it will be disposed of by lease only, and not by sale; and provision is to be made so that increased values resulting from the measures taken by local authorities shall for the most part accrue to the community.

The Planning Authority, which will be no ordinary Government Department bound in red tape, but a Commission strengthened by the part-time assistance of architects, surveyors, town-planning experts and experienced public men, will guide and inspire local effort in preparing designs for cities worthy of the ideals of the war.

Even more drastic and imaginative are the recommendations for dealing with land not yet developed, the broad countryside of Britain which has been in such danger from the speculator and the jerry-builder, but is now to come under watchful control.

Such then is the framework on which the Planning Authority shortly to be set up is invited to build. Some modifications of the scheme in detail are probable. But the way now is clear for proceeding boldly to prepare for the day when the energies of Britain will be diverted from war to reconstruction.

To Canadians, such far-reaching plans are likely to appear revolutionary. They would be reluctant to have Federal officials take such control over local affairs. But clearly any notion that Britain is traditional, or unable to place the national welfare above vested interests, can hardly stand in the face of plans so bold.

Away Back When

Frank Fairborn, Jr.

FROM THE COLUMNS of the Collingwood Bulletin-Enterprise, edited by Dr. David Williams, one of the most highly respected editors of a weekly paper in Canada, and a son of the late Wm. Williams, who previous to his entry into the newspaper field, was for many years principal of the Collingwood Collegiate. My Mother went to school to him. In my youthful years and his declining years, I had the pleasure of listening to him and my Mother reminisce. I learned a lot right there. I clip this week's column.

He says it is from the pen of Editor Edmond Thomas of the Brantford Gazette, but the fact remains that he started it all by printing in his paper two weeks' previous a story of the early owners of the Collingwood district, Nettawassa township, in particular. I pick the story up because it comes close to my heart. My Grandparents were Irish. They settled in Nettawassa township and were pioneers. The Livingstons around Duntroon and the Trows on the Eighth Line, part way between Cressmore and Glen Huron.

At the time of the great immigration of the poor Irish to Canada, thousands of them died on ship board, or almost immediately upon arrival. Editor Thomson says that there are six thousand unmarked graves of Irish immigrants near the Victoria Bridge, Montreal. The only monument is a huge stone inscribed with the following epitaph:

"To preserve from desecration the remains of 6,000 immigrants who died of ship fever A.D. 1847-8, this stone is erected by the workmen of Messrs. Peto, Brassey and Betts employed in the construction of the Victoria Bridge, A.D. 1888."

The Irish were fleeing their native land for a better land. They were voyaging in overcrowded, unsanitary sailing vessels and the result of their unwholesome conditions of travel was "ship's fever." They were leaving the Emerald Isle because they had nothing to eat there! They were fleeing from the dreadful "Potato Famine" of which terrible events I quote from Nolan's History of Ireland:

"In September, 1845, the potato blight appeared for the first time in Ireland, and the crop was destroyed. The farmers made a brave attempt to regain their loss the following year, deriving themselves of actual necessities to borrow money by means of which they were enabled to plant a new crop. With characteristic hopefulness they looked forward to the coming harvest. Again the blight appeared, and the farmers saw their potatoes destroyed. Then famine came. Men, women and children died by the hundred. Yet these things could have been prevented by the government, had it listened to the appeals of O'Connell and his party, for at the first warnings of nature in '45 he saw the possibility of a famine and had pleaded for a remedy for such an event.

He argued against the exportation of grain, pointing out the fact that, should the blight reappear, grain would be needed to take the place of the potato as food; he struggled to prevent the distillation of spirits, which necessitated the squandering of grain for this purpose; he sought to open the ports that provisions might be received from other countries; and he urged the government to lend its aid to the people who were suffering already.

His efforts were in vain. With its usual criminal negligence parliament closed its eyes to the coming cloud of misfortune. The government could not have prevented the blight, but it could have prevented the consequent suffering and death of the people. In the most callous manner, it refused to disturb the grain market for the sake of the starving millions of Irish, and when the terrible year of '47 finally came with all its attendant horrors, and the people lay dead and dying along the roadsides and in the fields, the amount of grain exported was far greater than was sufficient to feed the whole population of Ireland.

It is the bitter truth that with plenty in their own land the Irish people starved to death. As a natural consequence of all this misfortune, Ireland was fast becoming a waste. Emigration increased, for those who had the opportunity left their desolate homes and fled to America. But even in their flight the unfortunate Irish suffered.

Disease followed famine; and the wake of many a ship marked the burial place of those who died in their attempt to flee the shadow of famine and plague. The day came at last when the population of Ireland was two and one-half million less than it had been before the dawn of "Black Forty-seven."

A number of these families landed in the Fruit Belt. Most notable of them being the O'Farrells of which our present families of Farrells are descendants. The best stone mason that ever was in this district was one of those unfortunate immigrants, the late Patrick O'Farrell, silk hat and all. An example of his work still stands in Grimsby. The stone house on the west side of Elizabeth street, just north of the C.N.R. tracks. To anyone interested, it is just worth your while, to go and see this house, and note the workmanship of the north wall of the building.

As an indication of the fine feeling of the German High Command, we quote from instructions issued to the people of Lorraine and the Saar from the Commander of the Nazi Security Police:

1. You must always play the boss toward them. They are only delivered to you to help in your heavy work and increase production, and must be handled justly, but hard.

2. All personal relations are prohibited. Comradship with these people is impossible. You are expected always to remember that you consider yourself superior to the Russians and make it a matter of pride to maintain the necessary distance. Whoever despite these warnings insists on offending the German community and must expect severe measures against his person.

3. Do not permit yourself to be misled out of false sympathy into granting them even the slightest comforts or advantages. Labor from Russia must be treated and fed according to rules laid down by the authorities of the Reich. Any other concessions to them are forbidden.

4. You must get the extreme limit of work out of these laborers from Russia just as out of yourself. Don't tolerate loafing or shirking. Report everything of this kind to the Security Police in charge of guarding the Russians.

5. In the interests of your own security, and German production take care that the Russians do nothing to damage a factory or its products. Whoever doesn't report at least suspicion makes himself co-guilty.

The Mission Of The Church

Matthew 18:15-18; Acts 1:8; Acts 2:42; Acts 8:1-4; Acts 11:27-30; Acts 13:1-3; 1 John 1:3.

GOLDEN TEXT

As my Father hath sent me, even so send I you.—John 20:21.

An Introduction to The Lesson
The church is not an end in itself. It is designed to be the instrument in the hand of the Lord for the accomplishment of an end—and that end is the evangelization of the world. It is our business to be constantly engaged in winning others to Him who has redeemed us, remembering that He died for all. "How shall they call on Him in whom they have not believed? And how shall they believe in Him of whom they have not heard? And how shall they hear without a preacher?"—(Romans 10:14).

The Church in Activity

- 1.—Clean within (Matthew 18:15-17).
- 2.—Empowered by the Spirit (Acts 1:8).
- 3.—Observing the divine order (Acts 2:42).
- 4.—Scripturally organized (Acts 6:1-4).
- 5.—Rich in good works (Acts 11:27-30).
- 6.—Active in missionary service (Acts 13:1-3).
- 7.—Enlarging its fellowship (1 John 1:3).

The church is the divinely appointed assembly of God, left in the world to bring others to a saving knowledge of Christ. In order to Keep It Clean

Take care of your rug; it must last for the duration. Have you a small kit of antidotes for the ills that are likely to befall it? Ink and chewing gum are probably the worst.

To remove chewing gum, saturate the place with carbon tetrachloride (Be sure the room is well ventilated), and if once isn't enough repeat the dose.

Butter, lipstick, or other types of grease, road oil or tar should be removed immediately, and carbon tetrachloride once more steps into the breach. Take up the soil with a clean cloth as it dissolves.

Should the kitten spill ink on your rug, rush for some lukewarm water and sponge the area carefully. If it's an old stain, a professional cleaner will have better luck with it.

Paint may be removed with a cloth dampened with turpentine.

Pin Money

A woman's allowance of money for her own personal expenditures is called "pin money." In England, such pin money is sometimes provided for a wife by a small rent charge which she enjoys during her husband's lifetime, subject to her sole control.

Long after the invention of pins, in the thirteenth century the maker was allowed to sell them in open shop only on January 1st and 2nd. It was then the court ladies and the city dames flocked to the shops to buy them, having been first provided with money for that purpose by their husbands.

Later, when pins became cheap and common, the ladies spent their allowances on other fancies, but the term "pin money" has remained in vogue to this day.—Everyday Sayings.

do its work effectively, it is to be guided by the Word in its internal arrangements and empowered by the Holy Spirit for testimony, constantly reaching out to the regions beyond, until the witness has been given to all nations.

Greetings And Good Wishes To England

In the matter of sending Christmas cards to England we really let ourselves go. In moderation, you understand. And here's another thing,—it seems that the less expensive cards have it all over those in the higher price brackets when it comes to design. Then too, they are of modest proportions and come nearer meeting the size suggested by the post office authorities.

To friends on this continent (what a large sound!) we like to send English cards found at a certain book store we know of in Toronto; but for England a careful selection is made of Canadian-made cards. If there isn't a sufficient choice of these, then we are glad to fall back on United States-made cards.

We find that our resentment toward the galloping stage coach design has receded since last Christmas, when travel on rubber had not been seriously threatened. The stage coach and horses now begin to fit into the scheme of things as they are.

Death Of The Trees

Youthful woodmen, roaming along the banks of the Forty the other day, armed with the implements of their trade, lighted upon what they mistakenly took for a good stand of timber belonging to nobody. With joyous abandon they fell upon it and sawed down several young trees.

Sorry, boys, but these trees did belong to someone. Most trees in these parts do. They had been planted there and carefully tended for several years. If your primitive instinct to fell trees can't be overcome, the best thing might be to approach some farmer you know and ask if he would like help next time he has any trees to fell. Of perhaps a fruit grower would be glad of your help when thinning out his orchard. At any rate, make a firm resolve not to poach on other people's preserves, and you'll avoid heaps of trouble.

But the little trees lie dead. No longer will they give shelter and a resting place to singing birds, no longer interpose their green shield of leaves between the thirsty earth and the fierce rays of the summer sun. They are dead.

In Rhymed Verse

Only a few days ago we happened by chance upon the source of the title of John Buchan's book, Memory-Hold-the-door. It comes from a poem of Robert Louis Stevenson,—Our Lady of the Snows:

"While fairy Fancy far before
And musing Memory-Hold-the-door
Now to heroic death invite
And now uncurtain fresh delight."

Taste the artful alliteration in the first two lines!

Another poem bearing the name, Our Lady of the Snows, referring to Canada, and written by Rudyard Kipling, (when all was poetry that came to his pen), brought a storm of protest about the poet's ears from irate Canadians which ceased only with the poet's death.

This week's poem is from the tuneful pen of Robert Louis Stevenson and is found in his Child's Garden of Verse, a book which every child should own, and which every father should have the privilege of reading to his children.

Our Weekly Recipe

Here's something that smacks of the luxury of pre-war days. It's a coffee cake to be eaten with the Sunday morning coffee,—or at any auspicious time. It's nearly as quick to make as it is to eat—which is seldom the case. It takes:

One and half cups flour, ¼ cup sugar (or substitute), 2 tsp. baking powder, 3 tbs. melted shortening, ¼ tsp. salt, 1 egg, 2/3 cup milk. Sift flour, sugar, baking powder and salt. Beat egg, add milk and shortening, mix all together and pour into 9 x 9 pan. Bake at 425° for 25 minutes. Top with a mixture made from 2 tbs. of butter and a sugar, 1 cup flour, ¼ cup dry bread crumbs, ¼ cup raisins. Sprinkle on top before baking it.

If your raisins are the right little, tight little Sultanias, it's a bright idea to cut them before putting them in the mixture, for they are apt to be as solid and round after the cake is baked as they were before. In the shibboleth of the day, they fall to "co-operate". This is one of the many little home pour kitchen simmers can do for you. Use them to cut pool for the Christmas baking—if you can get the pool.

American Thanksgiving

To-day our friends and cousins over the Border celebrate their national Thanksgiving. This is family rally day in the "States." In small towns and villages, in farm and ranch houses sons and daughters have come home, bringing their children with them, to spend the day under the ancestral roof-tree.

The day begins with church service, the main object of which is to hear read from the pulpit the presidential Thanksgiving Proclamation. Then follows the traditional feast of good things—roast turkey with cranberry sauce, glazed sweet potatoes and squash, topped off with pumpkin pie. This bill of fare you'll meet, with variations, all across the country and from end to end of it.

After dinner, what little remains of the afternoon, at least as far as the grown-ups are concerned, is spent quietly; the women foregather for a quiet interchange of domestic experiences and discussion of difficulties and plans. The men stroll out to the hills and plot, the pig-pen, or the woods. The young ones take to the tremendous woods, after they've put the finishing touch on their tremendous dinner by climbing to the top of the strawstack and sliding down several times.

After a decent interval, hastened by the approach of twilight, all return to light refreshments, and those who are not staying for the long week-end are given a hearty farewell and sent on their way rejoicing.

Our Weekly poem

ARMIES IN THE FIRE
The lamps now glitter down the street;
Faintly sound the falling feet;
And the blue even slowly falls.
About the garden trees and

Now in the falling of the room
The red fire paints the empty room;
And warmly on the roof it looks,
And flickers on the backs of books.

Armies march by tower and spire
Of cities blazing, in the fire;
Till as I gaze with staring eyes,
The armies fade, the lustre dies.

Then once again the glow returns;
Again the phantom city burns;
And down the red-hot valley, lo!
The phantom armies marching go!

Blinking embers, tell me true
Where are those armies marching to,
And what the burning city is
That crumbles in your furnace?
—R. L. Stevenson.

My Neighbour

No thanksgiving is complete without its generous thought of those who are not so favoured as we are. The truly grateful heart always thinks of giving blessing to some other. Says George MacDonald: "When God comes to man, man looks around for his neighbour." Our own Thanksgiving dinner will be sweeter if we have shared it with another household. An unshared meal on this glad day will not bring its best possible blessing.—J. R. Miller, D.D.

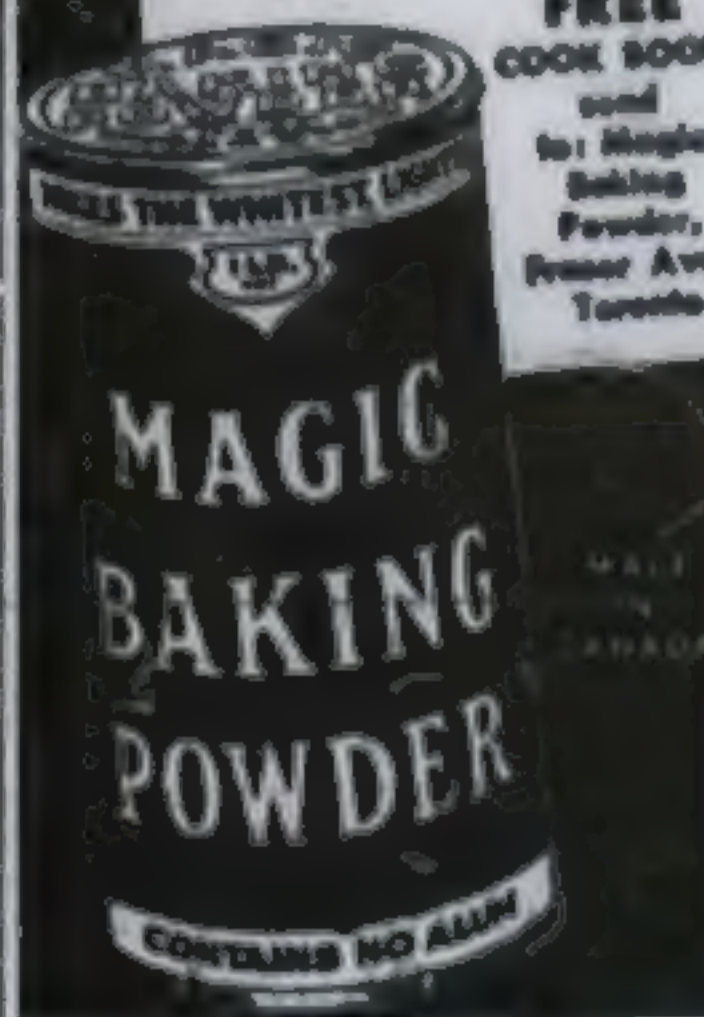

If we find the job where we can be of use, we are hitched to the star of the world and move with it.—Richard Cabot.

I.O.D.E.

90th I.O.D.E. COMPANY GIRL GUIDES

The Guides were visited on Tuesday evening by the Divisional Commissioner, Mrs. F. S. Greenwood, St. Catharines, and by Miss Wardlaw, Assistant Provincial Field Secretary. They were received by the three Guide officers and by the Brown Owl of the Brownie pack.

For the first time in its history the Company was inspected by a Provincial Field Secretary.

Afterwards Miss Wardlaw taught a new game designed to help towards Second Class, and another of the Red Man's ceremonial. In return the Guides demonstrated the good citizenship of Guiding in a short playlet.

The evening closed in the atmosphere of high ideals which is the core of Guiding, engendered by the few grave words of Guide Inspiration which the Field Secretary left with the group.

Obituary

Jonathan L. Book, retired fruit-grower and life-long resident of North Grimsby township, passed away Thursday last, following a lingering illness.

A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Book, he was born in North Grimsby on July 22, 1872, and was in his 71st year.

He was a member of Trinity United Church and Union Lodge No. 7, A.F. & A.M. At one time he served as a member of township council.

Surviving is one brother, Burgess Book, of Grimsby.

Under direction of Union Lodge, No. 7, A.F. & A.M., the funeral was held from the Stonehouse funeral home Sunday afternoon with a large attendance.

Rev. W. J. Watt conducted service at the home and graveside, the latter service being followed by the Masonic Committal. Casket bearers were: John Lawson, Clarence Lewis, Hilbert Gibson, John Newton, Donald Beamer and James Dunham.

Women's Institute

Dr. C. Shafer of Niagara Peninsula Sanatorium, and Miss Genik, field nurse, were guest speakers at the annual health meeting of the Women's Institute last Tuesday afternoon in Trinity Hall.

Between them they gave a comprehensive view of the great work accomplished in the Peninsula by the San in stamping out and preventing the dread family disease, tuberculosis. From 5,000 to 7,000 persons are examined each year, and much time, money and effort are spent in caring for them and teaching them to do their own part in self-care.

It was pointed out that the disease is an infectious one, not hereditary, and is inclined to be particularly rampant in industrialized areas, where people have more money to spend on amusement, resulting in a lack of proper sleep and rest and a consequent lowering of vitality. Present housing conditions are to blame, too, for an increase in the disease in the county. Small quarters and the herding of too many people in a confined space are responsible for the spread of much infection in families.

Lantern slides showed in story form some of the unsuspected ways by which the treacherous disease strikes at families, and Dr. Shafer concluded by saying that "we must beat our silent enemy to it, and strike him down before he strikes us."

A "th" of thanks was tendered, both by Mrs. F. D. Aitison, and a short program arranged by Mrs. Wm. Layton followed. Patry Robertson contributed two clever dances, while Betty Larson sang Grandfather's Clock, and Jesus is My Neighbour. Isabel Stevenson's recitations were well done and gave much pleasure. Several songs were sung by the audience.

The next meeting of the Women's Institute is to be held at the home of Mrs. James Fisher, Oak street, on the second Tuesday in December, the 8th, when jams and jellies will be received and packed for the San, in accordance with the usual custom. Two cartons of jam have already been forwarded. The members will welcome gifts of jams and jellies for this purpose.

United States railroads moved at average of 1 1/2 million tons of revenue freight one mile every minute of the day and night in the first 5 months of 1942.

Coming Events

The next meeting of the Women's Association of Trinity United Church will be held on Thursday afternoon, December 3rd, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. W. J. Watt, 92 Main west.

The correct statement should have been "that up to the 31st of October, this year arrears of taxes only amounted to $15,000 as against $19,000, at the same period last year."

Another Nickel To Be Issued

Canadians will get a new five-cent piece at the New Year—the second in less than six months.

It will be the same as the 12-sided "blackout nickel" first distributed a few months ago, except that the design on the back will be changed to incorporate "V for Victory" symbol and the Victory Torch, "by way of symbolizing the sacrifice which is being made to achieve victory."

This is the official description of the design on the back of the new nickel, to be issued next Jan. 2: "The character V and torch, combined, emblematic of sacrifice and victory, between two maple leaves, and dividing the date of the year; CANADA above, and CENTS below; and V also designates the denomination of value of five cents."

The present 12-sided nickel has on the back a beaver design similar to the design on the standard nickel five-cent piece, which, in a move to conserve nickel for urgent war purposes, was superseded by the "blackout" coin of mixed copper and zinc.

SPORTSMEN—Rumor has it that Leslie John Farrell, now doing his pill pounding in Trenton, has no more wisdom now than he had 20 years ago. He's going to put a team in the Junior B series of the O.H.A. I'll read it in the paper. I. J. can do the pencil work . . . Times are tough. The highly paid amateurs that make up the cracker-jack St. Kitts senior team are going to have to ride the trolley cars to their games in Niagara Falls and Port Colborne. Better players than they went to games with a horse and buggy. . . . "They are they not in the army anyway, instead of playing AMATEUR hockey. . . . " "more overtime games in the N.H.L." says Pruxy Calder. Trains "can not be held" for teams to make connections. Too bad. Canada would be just as well off, or better off, if there were no games at all, except the ones played by old-timers, positively "old" for the Services. Compared to the American big league teams, all outfits the N.H.L. looks like a dying calf in a thunderstorm. . . .

BRIGHTER PROSPECTS

self to any definite policy that might be pursued.

At the Toronto meeting it was very strongly impressed upon the mind of Mr. Sutton that immediate action was badly needed. The manufacturers submitting the fact that with smaller staffs they had to work continuously from now until next crop time to be able to turn out containers to handle a normal crop. In order to do this they would have to have timber supplies immediately and therefore asked that the matter be given speedy decision.

As a result of the meeting, a committee of growers is in Ottawa today interviewing the Controller and it is expected that a fairly liberal agreement will accrue. M. M. Robinson of Aldershot, who is thoroughly familiar with both the growers' and the manufacturers' side of the question is the chairman of that committee.

HONESTY OF BOY

propose the name of Kenneth Fairbanks for an award for his honesty.

As a result Kenneth will appear on the Harry "Red" Foster program over CFRB, Toronto, at 5.30 p.m. on Tuesday, December 1st when he will be presented with his award.

Besides a good dinner served by the ladies of the I.O.D.E. and the moving pictures—the youngsters and the "oldsters" were amused by the handiwork of a magician. The evening's programme was under the chairmanship of Lion Harold Woolverton.

Lion Erwin Phelps, reported that the annual children's Christmas party would be held at Moore's Theatre on Saturday, December 19th. It will be a combination show and rubber salvage campaign. Tickets will be provided for all the schools between Beamsville and Winona, inclusive, and each child when he or she procures a ticket must turn in a piece of old rubber of some kind. Full particulars regarding the show will be published at a later date.

SALE PRICES

that they could get along with one mow, one hay rake or one of any other implement instead of having two cluttering up the barnyard.

J. Goodman Pettigrew, of Smithville, Ontario's best farm sale auctioneer, says that sales are better than they ever were. Farmers are buying, paying top prices and paying cash.

As an example, "Good" in 1939, in his capacity as an implement salesman, sold a farmer a hay-loader for $119, and took an old loader in on the deal for $10. He didn't want the loader so left it with the farmer. Last week he had an auction sale at that farmer's place. He sold the 1939 loader, in good condition, for $128. He sold the old loader that he actually owned for $41.

A year ago at a farm sale he sold a young grade Holstein heifer for $72. Last week he sold the same heifer and her six weeks' old calf for $211.50. At this same sale he sold a herd of 20 cows and a bull for $3,150, just as the Holsteins, T. B. tested.

Prices such as these at farm auctions are a true criterion of the financial situation of our farmers, the backbone of our country.

Will you please convey through your columns the deep appreciation of the officers of the Hamilton Blood Donor Committee to the citizens of your town who, under the direction of Mr. William Hewson, furnished us with 115 donors at our afternoon Clinic on Wednesday, November 18th.

LINCOLN'S NEW SENATOR

Force and in 1940 he enlisted with the Canadian (Active) Army and served at Niagara Camp for a brief period before being rejected as medically unfit. Before returning to the officer's reserve he was adjutant in the 2nd Battalion of the Lincoln and Welland Regiment.

Mr. Bench is president of the St. Catharines Chamber of Commerce, and former chairman of the Separate School Board of this city, still holding the office of trustee on that board. In the Third Victory Loan campaign he was chairman of the St. Catharines committee.

Several years ago Mr. Bench had the honor of being the youngest King's Counsel in the British Empire.

He is the first senator to be appointed in Lincoln County since the late William Gibson, Beamsville, was appointed to the Upper House in 1900. First appointment to the senate in what is now Lincoln County was the late J. F. Plump, Niagara-on-the-Lake, who was named from the old riding of Niagara in 1879.

In the last Federal election Mr. Bench, Liberal candidate, was defeated by N. J. M. Lockhart, M.P., Conservative.

Senator Bench is not married. After announcement of his appointment had been made, Senator Bench expressed his feeling of deep appreciation in the honour bestowed upon him. Primarily he said, "I feel that the appointment is a recognition by the government of the importance of Lincoln County and the Niagara Peninsula and it is the means of providing this growing district with a further voice in the affairs of the government of Canada. I humbly accept my new duties and will execute them sincerely and to the best of my ability."

COUNTY COUNCIL

of the Municipal Finance Officers' Association in Kingston, Nov. 23rd and 24th. Deputy Reeve George Crittenden, North Grimsby, was appointed delegate to a reorganization meeting in Bramford, November 23rd.

Council endorsed two resolutions submitted for their approval. One from Westworth County, Ontario, the Dominion Government to permit municipally-elected officials to exclude their remuneration from income tax returns. The other, from the City of Toronto, urged the Dominion and Provincial governments to appoint a Royal Commission or similar body to investigate and report on means whereby every person in Canada could be assured security from fear and want.

Council heard the report of its Special Road Committee, which inspected county bridges on Oct. 29, when most of the 13 bridges were found to be in good condition. On the DeCaw Falls and Red Bridge they recommended that brush be cut and the floor cleaned off. This has since been done. Other bridges are all in a good state of repair.

Council will meet on Dec. 14th, and then skip a day to allow municipal councils to hold their statutory meetings the next day. They will resume county council Dec. 16th. Plans were made for a card party in St. Catharines December

DO YOU REMEMBER TEN YEARS AGO

From Files of November 23, 1932

Grimby and district experienced its first fall of snow last week.

On Thursday afternoon Third Form, High School, girls' basketball team defeated by Fourth Form by a score of 20-3.

Miss Sheila Coomber returned home on Saturday following a week's vacation spent with friends in Dundas.

Roughly it has been estimated that all but 300 tons of grapes grown in the Niagara Peninsula this year were successfully harvested.

Mrs. Herbert Gillespie (former Miss Edythe Williams) Grimsby East, will be at home every Wednesday afternoon after November 26th

The series of card parties which have been held by Grimsby Lodge, No. 369, in aid of a Christmas tree for children of unemployed, are to be discontinued. The funds so far realized will be handed over to the I.O.D.E. to be used in connection with relief work.

The dance held at the High School on Friday afternoon was a decided success. There were some 60 present and all enjoyed themselves. The music, supplied by Messrs. Merritt, Hill and Norton, was much appreciated. Owing to the success of this dance others may be held in the near future.

New lower rates for cars are to be now under consideration by Hon. Leopold MacCaulay, minister of highways. The present rate is $12. for a six-cylinder car and $20 for eight cylinders. It is expected the new rates will be $10 and $15 or $16 respectively.

Extending over an area of hundreds of square miles in the new sections of Ontario, giving the only hospital and trained nursing care available to thousands of settlers are 24 Red Cross Outpost Hospitals. They are maintained by the Red Cross, owned and equipped by local branches, and financed by gifts from all over the province.

After an almost continuous service as organist and choir leader of the Baptist church, Beamsville, for over a quarter of a century, and choir soloist before assuming her organ duties, Mrs. Robert Kemp relinquished those duties last Sunday when special musical and other services were held in commemoration of her long and faithful duties to her church and to musical circles in general.

On Thursday evening the Masonic hall, Smithville, was the scene of a representative gathering of citizens of the counties of Lincoln, Westworth and Welland and adjoining cities and towns, together with high officials of the Provincial highway department, to commemorate the official opening of Highway No. 20 by Hon. Leopold MacCaulay, M.C., Minister of Highways for Ontario.

The Made in Selfreft exhibition, staged in the parish Hall, Stoney Creek, by the Women's Institute, was one of the most successful affairs of its kind to take place here since the days of Stoney Creek fair. It was a happy idea that prompted the women of the district to inaugurate this novel method of letting the people see what the district produced in factory, field and home. One of the most popular booths was that of antiques and relics. The toll-gate sign which hung on the post of the gate in the village when Albert Carpenter owned what is known as King street, proved an object of much amusement to the younger generation, with the rates printed on it of "Team of horses 6c; single horse 3c; cattle 3c; score or more sheep 3c."

Fenwick Farmer Raising Fish

Meeting With Success in New Venture to Aid War—Constructed Artificial Lakes.

D. A. Moote, who has a 50-acre farm at Fenwick, is raising food to help win the war, but his crops are not only beef, grain and fruit. He raises—fish!

"The government asked us farmers to produce more food to help the war effort and as fish are food, I decided to give it a try," explained Mr. Moote. "I like fish myself, and there's a good demand on the market for them."

Although he is about 15 miles from Lake Ontario, Mr. Moote made three large artificial ponds, by damming up valleys on his farm. In the largest pond, covering about an acre, he planted about 400 pounds of large carp. The smaller ponds each cover half an acre. One is stocked with about 200 pounds of channel catfish. He is trying to secure a government permit to stock the third with bass, but failing this, he will plant it with carp. The water covers land formerly used to grow lucerne.

He secured the live fish from Dunnville in spring. Only a few of them died during the transfer to their new home, and the rest are apparently thriving in their new habitat. Mr. Moote feeds them corn and wheat, grown on his own farm, three times a week. Already he has noticed schools of fingerlings swimming through the weeds, a definite indication that his idea is "taking" and that the fish farm is being successful.

Arsenic applied to the skin acts as a caustic and causes a violent inflammation.

62 Ration Board In Central Ontario

There Are More Than 500 Across Canada—Explicit Duties Will Be Announced Later.

Memberships of the 62 local ration boards which are to serve the 2,000,000 consumers in Central Ontario have been approved by Donald Gordon, chairman of the War-time Prices and Trade Board.

These are the community boards which are to serve local areas, thereby decentralizing the operations of consumer rationing of tea, coffee and sugar. There are more than 500 across Canada.

Hardly more than a month ago Mr. Gordon received the enthusiastic assurance of municipal heads that they were ready and willing to serve as chairman of local boards composed of members representing a cross-section of each community.

In almost all cases premises for the use of the local ration board have been donated by the municipality. In most cases a senior municipal employee will act as secretary, his services having been donated by the municipality.

Announcement is expected shortly of the explicit duties of the local boards, a complete set of instructions which will give each board a clear picture of the job it has taken on in the rationing program.

Members of each local board were nominated by the head of the municipality, then approved by the W.P.T.B.

Following are the headquarters of the local board for this district, the area it embraces and the membership:

Grimsby, Townships of North Grimsby, South Grimsby, Caistor, Gainsborough, Clifton, Village of Beamsville.

Last year the Canadian National System moved more than 65,000,000 tons of munitions of war and other products of industry and agriculture.

Class 1—Goods of the United States put 67 new locomotives and 55,081 new freight cars in service in the first nine months of 1942. In order to handle the war traffic they have asked governmental authority for acquiring 900 new locomotives, 30,000 new freight cars and 2,100,000 tons of new rail before October 1, 1943.

TWO YOUNG MEN with faith in themselves

BEFORE the war, two young graduates in chemistry faced the future with no assets but technical training and unbounded faith in themselves. They planned to capitalize on their years in college by manufacturing a certain chemical product. "But we'll need some money to get started," they said. "Let's put it up to the bank."

Their banker decided that their faith was well founded in character, ability, energy. "We'll finance you to start in a small way," he said. "Make a test on the local market first."

Presently the product was being sold all over Canada and exported to the United States and overseas. Now it fills a wartime demand. The enterprise employs a large number of people.

This actual example illustrates how this country's Chartered Banks help credit-worthy people to benefit themselves, their fellows and their country under the democratic system of free enterprise.

Banks, like any other business, exist because they provide service which a community needs and is willing to pay for at a rate which will yield a reasonable profit. Chartered Bank profits average less than one-half of one per cent a year on total assets. Few, if any, other businesses operate on as small a margin.
